Yeah, it would be easier, but I don't have the money. I have a job, but money still doesn't grow on trees. I've already estimated that I'll have the money by this summer. I am also saving for a trip to Germany, so it's kind of rough. Also, I would like this computer to continue to work because my sister really needs a working one. Her computer died from a really bad power surge we had a few months back, I feel sorry for her.
