Piffle, I'd rather have my LCD over my CRT anyday. It uses about a tenth of the space, is 50% bigger (19" compared to 15") and seems much easier to read in my opinion.

The only downside in my opinion is that LCD screens need a lot of antialiasing to look really good, while CRT screens seem to be fuzzy anyway.

But if you're using a high-end PC, that isn't a problem.
