Agreed, i also am Christian and belive this is just another cheap scam from satan himself, i've seen alot from him in the past and with a few facts here and there, you can easily prove something right or wrong, but with this, you cant prove if the bones are Jesus's or not, all you can do is belive it or not, when I heard this on TV i knew this had to be fake, all of the things i have experienced in my life could not happen without Jesus because

1. Cancer just doesnt go away with no trace when your doctor says your gonna die in less than 4 months
2. Problems in my life (things i dont want to personally share) couldnt have gone away themselves, others with these problems struggled the rest of their lives, i did not, and within a few hard working months i was freed.
3. Without Christianity my life was miserable and nearly ended, after accepting Jesus and working a bit hard and trusting him, life's alot better in school, work, every day life.

Just my 10 cents of thought....I dont want any criticism or anything to get ugly or "thats just reassurance" thats just what i have experienced and think of this whole talk about "Jesus's tomb"

TO ALL UNBELIEVING ASSHOLES,

JESUS IS FOR REAL. GET OVER IT. AND YOU WILL NEVER DISPROVE HIM OR CHRISTIANITY.

BURN IN HELL.

I dunno if you are Christian or not, but even if you are, yelling and shouting wont make nonbelievers believe, to get someone to even slightly understand or want to understand the religion, you need to be calm, understand their viewpoint, then just share with them in a way that will strike interest, many people try to, but dont know how, thats why you see people say christians are "preachers" always going around saying "accept Jesus or burn in hell", thats how they see us because of the way things are presented, the way you present Jesus makes people turn away, trully to get others to read and strike interest about really who Jesus is, you need to be calm, and know ways to talk to them through conversation, not just blurting out "UNBELIEVING ASSHOLES" I respect your belief, but your method may in the end turn away people.
