Foobar2000 is my favorite music client. Who uses it? And what are your setups?

I'd show you mine, but I just reformatted and haven't gotten around to installing an application that handles images yet, which I have to do because I removed Paint from the Windows installation disc. I'll show you when I find my copy of Photoshop.

Before you suggest it, no I don't want to install an application that saves screen-shots directly.
