it has nothing to do with BIATCH

that message is basically a mini-cheat name removedook detector however its not 100% positive, and thus dousnt auto-ban, basically it just detects if somebody joins with an IP + nick.. and then joins with that ip/nick again with a different rg serial hash as the last time they connected then it sends that message, might remove it now since 1.04 is getting nearer and that message spawns too many false positives
