I'm afraid I will always use my PC because;

- 1) I can upgrade it at will (funds permitting)
  - 2) I can do a heck of a lot more, a heck of a lot faster on it (Map edit, type... etc)
  - 3) Console games suck (personal opinion, they're all boring FPS games)
  - 4) Consoles like to break, and then you can't fix them yourself, unlike my PC (which broke due to a power surge, I then fixed it, had my (hypothetical) console gone the same way, I'd have had to replace / send it off for repair - which takes longer than ordering parts and fitting them)
  - 5) Did I mention the games sucked?
