I thought you loved your lungs. :/

I personally never found smoking cigarettes worth the health problems, feeling of addiction, cost, etc. That's why I quit - for the most part...still working on that. =P I can't say no to one when it's once in a blue moon. But you see, then, health problems are mere, the addiction is not there, and the cost is then like nothing. I'm undecided. :rockedover:
