One of my favorite kills is when i was a mrls attacking ref in city flying. A stealth tank came up an blew up my mrls though i got him down to red health, and as he retreated i was able to place a timed c4 on him. He must have thought i ran off, becuase when he saw a med coming up to attack a turrent he left his stank by the building near turrent out of the ob's view. When he jumped out to attack med (he was a ravenshaw) i jumped off of bridge and ran into tank, and took off riding right past him, right then my timed c4 went off, my boink>impressive
