It would be possible to test Jelly's theory by setting up a 1v1 between yourself and one of the top 1v1 players... I recommend SS, Poison or myself... and a series against H2O.

Say, ten games... some of them clanwars against H2O, some of them 1v1's against the three players I mentioned, and see how many of them you win? It wouldn't take 23 hours a day out of your schedule, I think.
