So essentially, I'm getting the brush-off here because, as far as everyone's concerned, "If I use Xfire and don't change the INI file every upgrade, I deserve to have RenGuard crash."? Or is someone from Black Hand Studios going to politely ask the folks at Xfire to add the whole "game2.exe" setting to their INI file as a permanent thing? Furthermore, will they do it, seeing as RenGuard is a third-party program, despite being approved (though not supported) by EA Games themselves? (If I recall correctly.)
