Any lower quality it would make it unwatchable.

Viking was being sarcastic, he meant you should increase the quality. Most ren movies i watch are all the same; low fps, blurry/jpeggy, have default 'blue' wmm overlays and have some kind of undesirable music playing in the background.

Although people seem to like it

Ah well, to increase the quality would increase the file size.

I do have a great quality video of it, but its about 350mb in size.

That file was just over 80mbs in size, YouTube allows 100mb, maybe I could had gone a little up, if I kept messing around with it.

But after all, this is just a little video, didnt wanna win any rewards for it, lol.
