Uhm could someone with knowledge about these cheats please send me a PM it's possible to 'go to places that normal havocs can't go' on dedicated servers?

Two days ago, my clanmate told me about a situation where a Technician somehow got into his base on Walls_Flying while he was watching tunnels and the front with an APC...but to my knowledge these jump and speedhacks only work for the host.

*caught* has an spectator mode, which makes it for you that you are somewhere, while at the server, you are not there, I think.

Also there are ways to teleport you on the server, which can be initiated clientside. But BIATCH blocks those now.
