ROFL the price depends on several factors, including bandwidth allowed, processor speed, RAM, hard drive size/type... and a lot more. There is no magic fixed price. None of MY servers cost $150. They are hosted in a high-uptime data center with redundant power and network which minimizes downtime to almost zero.

My total server bill every month is about $480, over half of which is BHS-related expense, and the rest is n00bstories or personal.
