Infinintsorry just if you notice the older one gets the farther down on the page it gets then after a while another add pops up above yours and you have to post a new one.

Also no im not desperat enough to let

"Well Im A Career TS Map Maker, Ill Start To Learn Ren Soon" kinda people join.

and lucky for you i have all of the team members i need and will soon start putting it all together.

Thats's just part of life dude, if anyone really cares, then they will bump, reply, or what ever, and even you could prob. bump once or twice, before anyone would say anything to you about it. but just to keep posting the same thing is what will get old real fast.
