What I was doing wrong was that I was installing RG after installing Renegade but without even opening Renegade first. So, that seems to be the problem.
Erm, you don't need to do that. But if it worked for you...

I only followed Zunnie's advice that he gives on this thread:
<http://www.renegadeforums.com/index.php?t=msg&th=9790&start=0&rid=22731>

He says:

So now you have a (pretty) clean install of Renegade updated to version 1.037 with your maps and sounds you like.
Next thing you do is run Renegade and choose advanced game listings and Login with the nickname you want to be using.
Once you logged in once you can exit Renegade.

Now you start the RenGuard 1.03 installation. The RG1 install will automatically detect your Renegade game so basically all you have to do is click on "Next" , "Next" and "Finish"

If you did everything exactly as i wrote here, you should have successfully installed Renegade and RenGuard.

Maybe it is different for everyone. Anyway, I am a happy guy now.
