This is my latest mod. Nothing like Virtual Legos though (except for the mutants.  ).

Free For All Mutant Bot Deathmatch is another .pkg mod with a lot of new stuff.

There are two modes in this. Spectate, and battle. You'll spawn in a room with peds on both sides of the room. One will have the sign saying "Spectate" on it, and the other will have a exit sign over it. If you step on one, you will be converted into that mode.

The spectate is special. If you go into spectate mode, you will teleport over the battle field with no model, and the bots won't attack you. You can fly around, go through walls, and view the field as you please.

The battle mode is when your team is changed to your very own personal team, and you convert into a special mutant with a special gun at random. You teleport in a random place on the battle field, and it's every man for himself!

Here's a example of what the game will be like (through spectate mode)

(note that you have to right click, save target as, and open the program you saved it as for it to work)

The mod is not completed yet, and I will post when it is done.
