I don't disagree and want to specify that I'm not a member of BHS. I just try to help people with their problems.

You are right principally speaking but practically speaking the player doesn't care if it's brenbot or the renguard client solving the problem.

I don't say wait 20-30 seconds before you relaunch renguard btw, I say launch it and wait a bit before clicking 'renegade' (do NOT use the automatically loadup renegade - function). This will allow Renguard to scan all your files before running. No, it's not elegant but it does the trick for now.
