Jonty wrote on Sun, 10 June 2007 12:06 What is his agenda then? I'm really not getting it.

He started off in the server owners forum by stirring up controversy.

He then started trying to assisinate the BI guys products and bend others to think it was crap too.

He then started a thread asking the server owners why he was so hated basically.

The above was his start to undermining BHS and BI, and also his start to setting himself up as a selfless little guy with the communities best interests at heart.

He then took the drama to the forums that everyone has access to, with his every post he tried to assisinate the character of Crimson, and also tried cementing his role as "hero to the community".

Everyone loves reading a story of some litle company sueing Microsfot or something and actually winning. It is this that he has played on.

After swaying a few people he decides it's time to introduce the idea of his own run place, which would effectively make him the new Crimson.

This has all been designed and planned. He hasn't got your interests at heart, he is just playing on the "David and Goliath" story that everyone loves.

If you couldn't see that before, surely you can see it now that he has threatened to release the source code of rengaard? That surely isn't "looking out for the little guy", that's pretty much fucking the little guy right in the ass.

He is merely a frustrated little man with a chip on his shoulder. Don't let yourself get used by him.
