The whole mention of lawsuits over "forum drama" is the most LOL shit ever. Nobody, and I mean NOBODY has ever sued someone over some internet crap. The few who had money enough to try were laughed out of court. The whole "OMG I'm gonna call my lawyer and sue you" is equivalent to a couple of 6 year olds on the playground saying "My dad can beat up your dad".

The only even possibility of a lawsuit happening here is BHS filing a cease and desist against anyone who is proven to be hacking our product or services, or violating our IP rights (NDA). (yes 0x90 hacked RG but he is not in the US so why bother). And we would only do that in defense. At any rate, BHS is an LLC so even if someone managed to sue us and "take us to the cleaners", it would have zero impact on our personal lives.
