The draft is there incase of a war that would be the scale of something like WWII. It is not really necessary anymore considering we can obliterate countries and not even have to go outside anymore. Even if that happened, this country has so many lazy slobes that take advantage of everything they can in it, that Canada's population would double if there was a draft. I do not like the idea of death, but I would serve if called upon, unlike most of this country gone wrong. Want to know why they wanted to reinstate the draft? Some racist ass senators thought it would be nice to "have some white boys get their asses shot so everything will be equal". Its nothing more than an extension of that affirmative action bullshit that causes so many problems. Its nothing more than giving people unfair chances and making the racial divide even wider. The draft will never come into play really. We are so far superior to any country that we can take a war by ourselves. The only reason we ask for allies to get them to help with the costs and be the clean up crew.

fucking ass out. That pisses me off more than anything. These fucking people who sit around and collect welfare, or sue people for ridiculous shit, or try and tell other people how to raise children and try to tell them that they cant watch TV, or play video games.

there are countries like France where you will fit in just right, with the rest of the stinking trash.
