Troop, you really are something.
Why on earth post it on these forums. That would actually be a retorical question, since we all know why. Your attitude towards this case is all but polite. Do you even have real evidence? No, you have no clear evidence what so ever, except for your own experienceds, wich would be stored in the same brain that decided to post a thread like this on the renegade forums.
I am an experienced sniper myself too, and I will give you some renegade insights.
Aiming through glass? The wonderfull aspect of glass is that its transparent, wich means... you can look through it! See someone walking behind it, aim for the head, and when you both move around the corner you pull the trigger, no need for a targetbox what so ever. Apperently you need to work a little on your aiming and he beat you to it.
Getting from 0/2 to 17/2 within 10 min, thats as easy as baking a cake. You just need the experience.

Now there is an indication he might use aimbot, okay you have me all ears and I am really interested in the evidence. It seems you fcked up recording the video. Well what do I have now? No evidence what so ever, just an indication by a person who thinks these threads should belong on renegadeforums, thats not really convincing.

Either you knew you had no evidence in hands, and if you posted this on jelly-server it would not take long for everyone to notice that, so you posted it here. Or you decided to post it here to get us a bad name in the renegade-community, a little mud-throwing contest.

As for the questions. We ran a half-renguard server a month ago, though we disabled our renguard-functions on the bot because renguard had massive player-drops and was (at that moment) a pain for most players ingame, I am aware it is running stable now, we just havent seen any reason to switch back. I myself play without rg alot too nowadays, moderators are no longer forced to used rg on our server.
Now did you just mention he is a trial/admin? Where the hell do you get your information from? Do you even know the difference between a trial-moderator and an administrator? Because it's a huge difference. He is a normal moderator @ jelly-server.

Im a nice guy, and usually handle these threads professional and polite, but the reason I avoided a polite reply is the little effort you took before posting this. The little respect you just showed is a pitty, even after I unbanned you for racism on our server a while back, you still decide to play it nasty.

I will reply to a few people who posted in this thread too.
sadukar09: If you can base that decission on this kind of information, then I hope you are not a moderator on a renegade server.
Dave S. Anderson: Take appropriate mesures then, page irc/join irc. contact moderators, take a screenshot and post on our forums. If you could not be bothered then I don't think you can use these arguments.
puddle_splasher: You used us?!
