3) Since when do you pay attention to the ESRB rating anyway?

Exactly my point. If they choose to let 12 year olds play a "Teen" game, it's their fucking problem if people swear in game. They don't like it, they technically shouldn't be playing it in the first place, more and more servers are turning into swearbot servers, some (like mine) can guarantee they never will, that's the difference. But that's weird as that has never happened to me in jelly, although I don't play in the new maps one
