Hey, do you want to "absorb" my community of err... one person as long as i get some sweet sweet power.
To be honest, taking servers of the list is hardly needed, imo. The top servers and the actual communitys get the players. The servers up there that don't get players are just wasting someones retarded money. Unless they are home hosted, and then it's just taking up resources on the computer. Players don't bat an eye to the non-community servers and go elsewhere. Well, a few with one person in it get some players for about 10 mins or so.
