I tried that too, I removed the dashes and still didnt help, then i readded as test, I think it's the actual ssgm files, i'm not 100% sure, but then again if it's ssgm files, then why does the server load fine for gamespy and LAN? Then it isnt ssgm...it's something wrong with server.ini maybe...I just want to have my server back so I can test my scripts.dll mods I self coded today, I have no other way to test with a fellow clan member who taught me c++ coding...I'm trying to get my mods hosted onto our clan's server, but first i need my server so i cant test. I'll post the server.ini files tommorow since it's late right now and i'm not on my server PC or laptop.
