All it says is

Quote:The logs of him bypassing renguard do correspond to the time of clangames, and I am assured the detection for it is 100% infallible. I see no reason to doubt that assurance, bearing also in mind that the last person the admins have had so many people complaining about was Grendork.

SoQAshy's banned permanently. -SoQ- loses half their points this month (getting away with it for a while doesn't mean you won't get owned when you get caught later, to answer the inevitable)

Any SoQ player helping him evade the ban won't get the usual 1-month suspension - they'll join him permanently.

Were are the logs?
