Nice work man...

You know, most people won't post there thanks in here because people seem to be real stubborn when it comes to saying in public. Especially when they are in the "higher echelon" of the ren community.

This is a real shame, as it is quite de-motivating.

But with this .lvl file you reversed from the .mix, it is now possible for server owners to turn it into a .mix and remove the lag spots and other crappy bugs that make this map un-bearable.

It really is a nice release =]
