Simply put, I like having my ringtones be favorite songs of mine. However, with Sprint having the ringtones expire after 90 days, I find that to be too expensive for my taste.

I was bored today, and I stumbled upon a tutorial on how to create your own. Unfortunately, the program it tells me to use won't work with my phone.

Anyways, from there I was Googling and I found a site that lets you upload and send your own custom ringtones to your phone.

Edit: I know, this sounds like an advertisement, but I figured that some of you would like music ringtones, but didn't want to pay the charges would enjoy this free method of getting what you want.
