

---

Subject: Re: What new car to buy (for me)
Posted by Goztow on Wed, 01 Aug 2007 06:37:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The Toyota Prius is a nice hybrid for people wanting to go environmental.

But I guess it'd be nothing for Blazer, so ain't gonna post a pic.

While it's correct your driving style is important, you can't deny that American cars will generally use more fuel than Europeans. As I said: at 1 - 1,5 € a liter we can't afford to waste the black gold.

On highways, my old car did almost 800 km with 40 liters. My new car uses more 'cause it ain't a Diezel and a bit more sportive, though.

---