Go get angrier about losing a computer game, loser... while you're at it, go have another nervous breakdown about someone calling you a geek. Talk about insecure...

This is the part where you get SO FURIOUS at being humiliated again that you respond by saying what I said, because you're too dim-witted to actually think of a rebuttal and too angry to simply cut your losses and stop posting.

Or you could prove me wrong about what a geek you are, and instead go live the wonderful life you're so desperate to make people think you lead...

Dude its only the internet no need to go crazy now, just go find some real life friends. U dont need to get all mad over a few post its not like its gonna kill you to stop talking.
