The Sky is too small, I weigh more than 120 pounds

Af for my NOS damaging my engine, it's not just slapped on without thought. I have a extra high-pressure fuel pump, modified fuel pressure regulator, and altered ECM which all make sure that there is extra fuel and no detonation. To be honest I don't really even race anymore, so I will probably either sell all the NOS stuff or leave it on my car when I give it to Kozar, and let him tear up some roads and riceboys with it.
