Subject: Is This Possible??

wow, this kinda went a little bit out of control....

But it seems no-one really knows if this is possible or not?

What AircraftKiller was talking about, how you have to shoot once to have it turn on would be cool, maybe a secondary fire can be used as a toggle to turn it on, all it has to do is just when you want it on, right click and it fires a harmless invisible projectile and then the beam is on... (haven't thought about it much as you can tell...)

And what Blazer said, that could also be an option!!!

Anyone wanna try it?? im not smart enough in these parts of modding to try/test it out my self
