Oh hell (didnt notice the "go"), if your buying a laptop then yes do as Shadowfalls says. I thought you were putting together a desktop computer. If your planning on gaming, desktop is the way to go. Laptops cost 2-4x as much and cant be upgraded afterwards. (for the most part)

On my HP Dv9000t I have a GeForce Go 7600 512mb card and its holding its own.
