Wow....so you dont even use any antivirus at all? thats even stupider, I bet you have 69739 thousand viruses on your PC, download avg anti virus, do a full system scan, and tell us what happens.

BTW, you wanna know the cold hard truth when it comes to viruses? There is no cure-all, Not your shitty ass norton or even avast! for that matter. These are tools that should keep your computer standing, but you need to learn how to find and take care of these things yourself.

Dont waste your time, all we can do is supply him with a link to avg since it uses less system power than nortons and it is free, works better, and have updates daily, that or nod32

Incase you didnt get this

http://free.grisoft.com/filedir/inst/avg75free_485a1117.exe

And incase you didnt read that one

http://free.grisoft.com/filedir/inst/avg75free_485a1117.exe

and when you ignore that

http://free.grisoft.com/filedir/inst/avg75free_485a1117.exe

and if you ignore all these HQ....then your screwed, download avg or go away.
