What im trying to say is, Guns are designed to kill people, cars aren't. I'd rather have someone beat the shit out of me because I pissed them off to the level of no return than to get shot by him because he has a gun that he just bought 15mins ago for a store.

No, you don't understand the concept of personal responsibility, then. Your actions are your own REGARDLESS OF YOUR MENTAL STATE. Sure, it's more understandable why you would react a certain way in a situation, but it still doesn't change the fact that YOU did the act.

Again, if we use your logic, automobiles could be used in the same fashion. What makes that any better? Because automobiles serves an alternate purpose? Guns server an alternate purpose than to murder people. They serve to protect others, and they're also great for recreation.
