I've always loved everything about how Valve handled things but does anyone else have a sore ass rim over this Orange Box pre-order? I just had to buy HL2 and Ep1 over again because they will not be offering the black box. They reportedly said that they had issues with retailers.....

Even on steam though? It's steam...they are the retailers. They do allow you to send HL2 and Ep1 to anyone in the world as a free gift but bah to that. Everyone I would give it to already owns HL2 and Ep1 or is someone I hate so much that I would rather gut myself than give them anything other than a quick death. (Talking to you Viking)

The one thing that still is gold is the price. $44 bucks gets you the entire HL2 series and all the upcoming games we have been waiting for.

@ the Viking comment: Its nothing about his post on this forum, it's the conversations we have on messengers.

EDIT:

Might as well use this thread to share our steam list.
