Most of you didn't even read my post all the way though... but I respect the ones that did.

For those of you who didn't read it all the way though.. you would of known that I didn't say that the government covered up ANYTHING.

The only thing that I said about the government was about the plane that this thread is about, and how it probably didn't have anything to do with 9/11

Other than that, I don't see what everyone is so pissed off at... All I did was explain an idea of mine that the terrorists could of used in place of what we all saw. That doesn't change what happened, and that doesn't mean that anyone would be affected by it in any other way...

Tell me, what is the difference of someone being killed in a car crash and someone being killed in an explosion?

The cause of death, right? But does it really matter what the cause of death is? No it doesn't. Do you know why it doesn't matter? Because the fact of the matter is that the person was killed... so what difference does it make on how they were killed?

You morn over the loss of someone you know, you don't morn over how you lost them.
