Australian girls are hotter by default with that accent (in my opinion of course). All other accents just annoy me but if you want me to pick out the most annoying accent in the universe it would be:

Brummie.

I second that!!!!

That is the worst accent I have heard from anyone the world over.

you then have never heard the stuff that comes outta barnsley then Heh I always thought Barnsley accents were alright....having said that I love Northern English accents. Hate Southern Accents coz alot of my cousins are from Basildon and they talk like Cockneys and they like to refer to us (Northerners) as "a banch ov norven mankeys!" So I affectionatly call them a bunch of "shandy drinking southern tossers" oddly though we all get on really well when we are together for a family function!
