TaximesAircraftkillerSure, you just want your two-cents put in to make you look like you're on the moral high-ground here, when most people don't know you and don't care if you left.

I forgot about you... Probably for the best, considering people who just up-and-leave, because they can't stand the heat, aren't worth my time.

The only time you've found to post is when a thread like this is made, and nothing else. Funny that it would have to concern me before you'd write anything.

By all means, go ahead and do them... While doing them, ask yourself, "Does anyone care if I leave?" I doubt anyone cares about someone who expects problems to be solved for him, without making any attempts at all.

You're still a hypocrite, regardless of how you attempt to rationalize your hypocrisy.

Har har, that's priceless. Definitive reaction to any antagonistic provocation of you ACK, you have not changed at all. Stay that way though, the world needs people like you.

Y'gotta have a balance in society.

Weren't you the one who said you were not going to reply anymore? Well, maybe you meant that as "I'll post what I want... But what I say doesn't apply to me." :sleepy:
