I dont remember the German war machine ever stepping foot in the UK.....so huh, just coz the French rolled over and said woof doesn't mean Europe was owned as I believe the UK was then and is still part of Europe so

Anyway you're partly right Goztow Hilter fought a war on two/three/four fronts toward the end and that is never smart! Whether Germany would have ever got to the UK or not remains to be seen because they would have had to fight for every square inch of the country, simply because we used to be an empire, no way we'd keel over and be ruled by another....It's just British Stubborn nature.

Edit oh yeah sorry Spoony back on topic

Indeed.

And, I've need to correct you on something.

"Whether Germany would have ever got to the UK or not remains to be seen", well it was seen, you remember the Battle of Britain?

Here is a good video of us brits owning them in the air:

And with their failed attack to destroy our Air Force, Germany could never launched Sea Lion, the Germany inversion of Britain.

Anyway's, lets ignore John wanker, he is a wannabie German and should be ignored.

I've have many good German friends and they own.
