Thats why I dont play in big servers, I play in servers with 10-12 people, each person has a responsibility, and person takes on several jobs during the game, because they know they have to, and each person works as a team, big servers, people goof off, point whore, tank mass, and just do crap, some people in those servers could never survive in a smaller game, because their used to doing 1 thing the entire game fro playing in a server with 20-30 people.
