I found the culprit..It is my voip phone adapter. I have recently got a new voip phone (Joi), and i have taken the ethernet output to my router. That has caused the problem. I now connected the cable modem directly to router, and connected my voip adopter to the router. Now the problem seems to bo solved.

But, i have noticed a raise in ping in some of my favorite servers. I am able to play in couple of servers only..i hope this is temporary.

I thank everyone for replying the post. You have definitely helped me in restoring my favorite hobby
