Weed should be legalized. It's not really a harm, besides buring your brain cells. Face it, everyone would be happier smoking weed, no one will be mad, and no one will have a raging violence, unless your phsycho.

The only reason why the government doesn't legalize it, it is becuae people can grow it, and people WILL grow it if it was ever legalized. And becuae of that, it is a big fat IF. Government just wants your money, and there is no possible way they can get money off legalizing weed. Well they could if they sold it in stores and put a tax on it as they do with cigarettes, but becuae people can just grow it for free, that won't be a huge income.

US Governments are bias!!!
