ok...it was lag.

however, I have played on this server many times before without lag. Further, on this server, there are many skilled players (not me.) I know they never cry aimbot or cheat when they are killed. They always type ns when they are skillfully killed. In this situation, even these guys were left wondering what the hell was going on.

The reason I didn't report is because I am not sure what happened. You are probably right - lag or some other explanation.
