What an idiot. You don't stand in front of those banners with 40+ 200lb. or more football players about to charge through it.

I also like this quote:

"She got the last laugh, she took down the player that's much bigger than her"

More like he tripped over her...

Sorry, I don't like cheerleaders much, depending on where we were on the field they'd drown out our line calls at points. I almost wanted to turn and tell them to STFU at times.
