I currently have NetZero but it only lets you use 10 hours a month. I would also love to hear about other ways of getting free dial-up, if you know what I mean.

If you can't beg your parents for 5.99 a month to buy dial-up...Gee I don't know what to tsay.

There is no free dial-up, unless your parents in enrolled in college or something.

I'm sure he has that much worth in carbonated beverages every month. Hell, I probably have that in 2 week's time, and I don't drink that much.
