sorry douche bag, anything you consider "healthy" can have a negative affect on your body, too your insults are getting stupid, the only thing you should be defending yourself to are the actual 'alcoholics' and 'drug abusers'

i have a question for you,

Let's say Joe smoked weed every other day, his friend, Chris, took diet pills every morning, and every night. Both are considered to be "drugs" - does this make both of them drug abusers?

I ask this question because you are basically saying that only the people who do illegal drugs/narcotics/plants(Marijuana) are the drug abusers. I don't understand why you have built so much hate for people who have their own independent life, which you seem to think are so evil because they do 'illegal' things, alcohol isn't illegal but throw that in, too.

How can I hate ya funny fucking potheads?! I love ya guys!

+1 Post.
