bwat,

People have tried to help you, such as Cheesesoda, and you just give them an earful. You type with caps-lock on, you've got poor English. You ignore what people say, you turn on ignore for people who give you a straight answer. You even flamed kholdstare for helping you.

As for this community, there are ignorant stupid pricks who do flame you, but they are retards who need to get a life. Those people you should put ignore on for, not the people who try to help you.

Nearly every time someone new goes to the rengaurd forum they post with poor English, and clame it was their brother/uncle/dad/dog/fish or say it was because they "accidently downloaded the cheat and accidently again installed it and somehow accidently ruined someone else's game".

If you run a server, someone came in and started hacking would you ban them? Yes, you would, would you belive their story if they came to you and literally said "OMG U BANT MIE IT WUSUNT MIE DIT WUS MIE BROW UNBANT ME PLOX" would you? What you're saying come across as what i exaggerated above.

I assume you'll call me a crying 10 year old, if you don't at least read what i said then it's the last bit of help you're receiving from me. I will give you some advice, take it into account, learn from it. The renegade community will learn to live you if you do. Typing as if you've at least tried to spell correctly and use proper grammar goes a very long way. I'm not a good speller, but i use the spell check button and it helps
