I didnt say that you are a pointwhore, i said that you are a moron because you think a orca pilot needs ANY skill to hit a vehicle with a machine gun.

Go back and reread what I said. If you think that's what I said, then you must be dumb. Which idiot in their right mind would say that?

I am talking about finding stanks with an Orca and then chaingunning them to death. Orca pilots fly so high like idiots they completely miss stanks.

I am sure an Orca pilot is skilled if he is the only one in the whole fucking team flying low (to spot stanks), straffing with guns, and looking all over the most discrete places to find stanks. Of course after finding one, it takes no skills to gun them to death.
