Thats what the Meds are for, dumbass.

Exactly, that what the Meds are for BUT YOU STILL ARE IN F*CKING CLANWARS MENTALITY AREN'T YOU FOOL?

The reality is different in public servers where the rule is "each player for himself." So, I don't have the luxury of people buying Meds and using them to find ground vehicles while I can focus on killing Apaches. Only during rushes is when public players actually do something close to teamwork.

So in such an environment, you clearly are a retard for thinking an Orca can do only one thing and for calling me a "dumbass." As a public Orca pilot, I have to defend, go on the offensive, kill that fucking Sakura on the bridge, warn my team of enemy rushes, look for fucking stanks and do a shitload of extra work that is otherwise distributed evenly in CW.

Sometimes I get lucky and end up in a dream team but that is not true all the time.

Also, you obviously think an Orca is only for offense...it is also the BEST defense you can get. Obviously, you don't know shit how to defend with Orca. So stop trying to sound so smart, you CW fool.

-OF COURSE an Orca will get shot at by ground units if flying low FOR TOO LONG. You think I am stupid and can't see ground units?

-OF COURSE enemy air units will have an advantage if you are flying lower then them.

STFU, fool. WOW...you are such a retard and you can't think outside CW. F*ck off and post CW strategies in the right forums or create a seperate topic for such strategies.

Post more crap and pwn yourself more.
