

---

Subject: Random Generation

Posted by Sir Phoenixx on Wed, 09 Jul 2003 17:06:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

General HavocWhat i meant by computers not being able to generate random numbers is that they can't to a certain extent. I.E. there is a process it follows for obtaining the number like pick a number after 10 cycles of number pattern.

You said that computers cannot create/generate random numbers, that they are unable to. The process by which a computers comes up with a random number doesn't matter, it's still generating random numbers.

---